BOOKER T. WILL SPEAK IN CITY

Noted Negro Educator Will Deliver an Address

in September The negroes of El Paso have succeeded in having Booker T. Washington of Tuskegee Institute consent to visit El Paso and speak during the latter part of September. "The negro, who ate with Teddy," is on his way from a tour of the north, where he has been delivering addresses. He spoke at the World's Alliance (Baptist), at Philadelphia, the National Christian Endeavor convention at At-lantic City, at St. Louis and other places, spreading the gospel of "peace and good' will between the races. Wm. Coleman, principal of Douglas school, says his race appeals to the whole public to come out and hear him. There will be no admission fee. "In this connection, we want to thank the peo-ple of El Paso for their kindness to us and our people, and ask them for further patience and sympathy in our efforts to inspire them to put themselves upon higher planes of thought and activity; to strive to make themlishment and promotion of the interests essential to the permanent, peaceful prosperity of our city," he says.
